BUYING IMMUNITY FROM OUR NATIONAL DUTY

In lieu of a Canadian naval policy Mr. Borden proposes to donate a cash contribution of thirty-five millions of dollars to the British Admiralty, to be used in the construction of war-ships, postponing the inauguration of a national sea defence until some later and unspecified date. The significance of his decision is that he has not succeeded in harmonizing the divergent factions of his cabinet and following in support of any consistent course on the vital question of Canadian participation in Imperial defence. The most he has been able to accomplish is to secure the consent of his Nationalist allies to the temporary expedient of a cash donation to Great Britain. Remembering the aims which these gentlemen have professed from the public platform with his knowledge and approval, it is perhaps a matter of congratulation that the Premier has seen fit to exert his influence for the anti-British allies to this extent. But though the "brass may crash and the trumpets bray" the un-compromising fact remains that the largest and wealthiest of Britain's over-sea Dominions is prevented by the divided counsels of the Ministers of the Crown from inaugurating a homogeneous national policy of sea defence looking to the future as well as to the present security of its own shores, to the freedom of the high ways of ocean-borne commerce, and to the prestige of the empire in the eyes of British power and institutions. Nor is that humiliating fact obscured by any great monetary advantage to be gained by the proposed expedient. The Premier did not even try to establish that there exists any "emergency" in the financial affairs of Great Britain such as would make the donation of thirty-five million dollars—or three that sum—a deciding or even a potent factor in ensuring the integrity of the British Empire. He failed, indeed, as he must fail, to show just why he proposes to make the donation, other than that he is, like the overwhelming majority of his fellow countrymen, so shakably attached to the British connection and anxious, like them, to do something to show his attachment in a practical manner. The loyalty of the Premier has not been questioned. But on an occasion of such vast import it is not sufficient that a costly demonstration be made of his unquestioned loyalty. It is also needful that the means adopted be such as conform to the genius of the British race and meet the circumstances of the future, as well as of the hour. A cash contribution does neither the one nor the other. It has not been the policy of the British people to hire other—even kinship—either force their weapons or to wield them. At a time when the enemies of Britain are said to be counting on the moral and physical decadence of the people of the British Isles, it were surely a more real service to the Empire to tell them that on this continent there is a new and valiant Britain, where a young and virile people propose to emulate without delay the hardy virtues which have made our common flag the banner of a worldwide empire, and even the Premier will hardly contend that Canada can for the future discharge her duty to her empire and hold her right place among the nations which owe allegiance to Britain's king by an occasional donation of unneeded money to the treasury of Great Britain. If we are to develop in Canada the spirit as well as the capacity for self-defence and Imperial defence, we can only do so by building our own ships, in our own ports, manning them with our own seamen, and maintaining them at our own cost. With the opportunity before him of continuing and extending the truly Canadian and truly Imperial policy begun by his predecessors, Mr. Borden can only propose that he buy a temporary exemption from this national duty at the cost of thirty-five million dollars, and that we leave the future to take care of itself. That is the price Canada and the Empire pay for the unholy alliance of the Conservative party of Canada with the followers of Mr. Bourassa.

SCHOOL MATTERS.

An attempt is evidently being made to make the retention or removal of an official of the School Board an issue in the election of trustees. The attempt is not one that should succeed. A matter of this kind cannot be dealt with by the public with full and impartial knowledge of the facts, and it is one therefore for which the public should not be made to assume responsibility. Responsibility rests absolutely and unavoidably upon the men whom the voters choose to manage their school system for them, and no set of non-inapplicable rules for charging that responsibility can be big enough to direct the school system of the city to the best advantage. The engagement, retention and discharge of school employees, from janitors to superintendents, is a detail of administration, and can be properly dealt with only by those who have the resources for the results of the administration. So far as the public are concerned, there is only one issue in an election of school trustees—whether the children are getting the best educational facilities that can be given them in return for the taxes paid by their parents, and if not, why not. If the record of the present School Board should be reviewed in the present campaign, it is in reference to the efficiency of the school system and the provision for future school accommodation that the discussion should take place, and not in relation to detail matters which the public are not in position to pronounce upon and should be asked to take the responsibility for.

Remark on the Side

Criticizing the local powers that be, a Toronto man says: "What do you think of Mr. Borden? He is wrong, throw the blame on his hired assistants, and will employ those assistants." It looks like rather a sensible thing to say. They might get sensible, too, when they couldn't dance.

Two boys were born in Wetaskiwin the other day, and according to the "Wetaskiwin Standard," whose name they are, says a great future in grand opera or musical comedy is assured them. They seem to be cut out for the leading part in a comic opera entitled "Divided Responsibility; or It Takes Two to Make an Ounce."

According to some authoritative testimony, coming to us by way of one drink at a time, but the school board election has brought forth an even more liberal definition of a testator is one who does not drink.

"We must show the world," says a Conservative organ, "that we are behind the mother country, and that in dealing with her they have also to deal with us." The fact that all the world is free to deal with the mother country may be taken as proof of how much we really are behind her.

A local journal records the case of a man who fell and hurt his head on the ice when skating on Sunday, and hopes his fall will deter others from Sabbath-breaking. All sensible people will be inclined to admit that to break ice with one's head on a Sunday is a practice not to be encouraged.

ACROSS THE SEAS.

Over 100,000 Three Hundred Tons of Mail Passes Between Canada and Old Country.
London, Dec. 2.—Postmaster's report issued today shows over 2,500 tons of newspapers and magazines sent to Canada direct last year, and more letters and postcards. A total of printed papers and samples, 100,000 parcels as against 6,000 sent from the United Kingdom to British North America, valued at $2,000,000, and over 100,000 pounds came here in money orders from British North America.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Getting Alarmed.

Western Telegram (Can.)—"Conservation may get into the day that Mr. H. L. Borden felt under the evil spell of Robert Rogers."

No Objection.

Vancouver Province—Lord George does not object to a minister of the gospel being made a vigorous advocate for a ministry of state when assisted by a militant suffragette.

Good Housewives.

Toronto Globe—"The Bulgars, having liberally thrashed the Turks in now quarrelling with their Greek neighbors, are threatening that what was interrupted in 1291, the peoples of the Balkans have long-distance memory."

A Question of Dues.

Ottawa Citizen—Turkish trousers are being extensively worn this fall in leading resorts, says the "Chicago News." From the speed at which many of these trousers were reported to have been made, there must have been a good deal of pining in evidence.

The Question.

Winnipeg Free Press—Says the Calgary Daily Herald: "The grain blockade at the head of the western grain circuit is short time ago is already a thing of the past."

This is, indeed, gratifying information for the distracted grain shippers of the west. But is it true?

No is Alberta.

Victoria Times—"The success of Alberta's five million dollar loan, which was recently undertaken, in fact, proves that although one or two recent flotations did not produce the expected results, investors are still ready to provide the capital necessary for the development of Canadian resources on reasonable terms. Canada is all right."

Had Influence.

Montreal Gazette—"At a temperance meeting at Montreal on Sunday one participant found it necessary to refer to another as a liar and a scoundrel, whereupon the other repeated the statements which drew forth the unseemly protest. It is and when good men thus indulge in violent and truth-provoking expressions of rage of confidence in each other. It sets such a bad example to the wretched politicians who abound in the land."

Again in the Limelight.

Saskatoon Phoenix—According to reports mandamus played law part in the capture of Salomon and fully sustained his international notoriety by massing 120 Turkish patriots. Of course you know who Sandanaky is? Well he is the big bold Bulgarian brigand, who uses a name for himself by capturing Miss Ellen Stone, the American missionary, and holding her for a substantial ransom.

A Distressed Pugilist.

Montreal Gazette—Jack Johnson has been freed in court of the charge of whipping a woman old enough to show her own mind, and who followed him about the country. Mr. Johnson, just the same, should be very careful in his conduct. He is not a white pugilist, at least in color, and the avowed part of a nation is awaiting the opportunity to let him know. He should never have defeated the pride of the whites of more countries than his own. Probably by this time he wishes he never had.

Must Come to It.

Montreal Herald—"But Mr. Borden will have to come back to the Laurier policy. Probably he will, in his proposals, pave the way for this by earmarking the cash contribution as destined for a Canadian fleet if he is created. By this course he will also make his proposals far more palatable to Canadians who are convinced that a national policy is to be found in the true solution of the problem. And we venture to say that such Canadians from the vast majority. British does not need our cash so much as she needs our moral and physical alliance in matters of common defence. As Lord Milner well put it, on his recent visit to Canada, what the empire requires is not the lessening of Britain's burdens, but the creation of fresh centres of strength. Mr. Borden, whatever he may do now, will be false to Canada and to the empire if he does not ultimately propose that our permanent policy be the assumption of naval defence as a national duty, with the consequent establishment of a sense of personal and industrial responsibility for each defence in the minds of every citizen."

Dodged His Duty.

Toronto Star—"In the debate on the address Mr. Wilfrid Laurier charged that these critics had been committed. He produced conclusive evidence that Sir Rodolphe Forget, member for Charlevoix, has promised the electors of Richelieu a government railway if they would elect the government candidate. He charged also that in the Marchand election men had been created and imprisoned in defiance of the law, for the sole purpose of preventing them from exercising the rights of citizens; and that as soon as the election was over, they were released, without any attempt at prosecution."

Furthermore, it was shown that the duty on cement had been reduced before the Saskatchewan elections, and restored afterwards, creating at least a presumption that the tariff had been manipulated for election purposes. Mr. Borden was not expected to accuse these charges as proved, but it was his duty as a public man, as the head of the government, and the leader of parliament, to treat them seriously. He ought to have been more in-therapeutic in the charges, and thus either to punish the offenders or clear the names of his colleagues and friends."

EDMONTON DAILY BULLETIN

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1912.

Vancouver Province—"Cigar smoke is said to be fatal to the cholera germ. The income arising from certain trusts is strong enough to carry the cost of the most potent of microbes."

Financial Depression.

Vancouver Province—"The conviction of the New York 'gunman' has had a depressing effect on certain financial institutions in that city, reversal of the leading fair banks have closed their doors."

Different Men.

Regina Leader—"The disposition shown by Premier Borden and his colleagues of the Dominion cabinet to take lightly and as a matter of small account the serious charges made in respect of the conduct of the Mackenzie election is in striking contrast with the prompt action of Premier Borden in connection with the recent Mackenzie case."

RUGBY UNION WILL ASK FOR AMENDMENTS

A.R.U. Will Ask Change in Scoring and Introduction of Snag-Back System.

EDMONTON ESKIMOS WERE NOT REPRESENTED

Dr. Robt. Pearson Elected President and Dr. Mason Vice-President.

Special to the Bulletin.
Last night, Dec. 6.—The annual meeting of the Alberta Rugby union was held at the hotel, when the business of the year was wound up and officers for the new year elected. The Eskimos representative of Edmonton was not represented in the meeting. C. H. Dehaene represented the northern city.

The most important feature of the meeting was the decision arrived at to amend the existing rules of the game. Several changes were suggested and the committee was authorized to make such changes as they saw fit. The committee will report at the next meeting. The new year's meeting will be held on Jan. 10, 1913.

The Canadian union is also asked to amend the system of scoring whereby points are awarded for a try, a goal, a drop, a penalty and a conversion. The secretary was instructed to write to the Canadian union asking that the same system of scoring be adopted. The secretary also wrote to the Canadian union asking that the same system of scoring be adopted.

Fullerton retained the captaincy of the team. The team will play on Jan. 10, 1913.

WHY DIDDER FITTER STAYED IN THE EAST

Edmonton, Dec. 6.—One is a while some secret history of sporting organizations comes to light.

Today it is something about Fitter and Lavelle, the Danes and Fitter and Lavelle.

When Fitter thought that he would have to go to the Pacific coast, he tried his best to get Lavelle to go with him, and finally, as Lavelle was to have been a competitor that he decided to go.

After that, Gardner, for the Fitter, began to bid him up. But he is going to try, however, came close to going to the Pacific coast.

In fact, during the meeting of the National Hockey association in Toronto, the two were put on foot, for the purpose of taking the matter to the courts.

It was suggested that the Ottawa, Canada, hockey club should not play against the players who had, and that the Toronto, Canada, hockey club should not play against the players who had.

EDMONTON LADY IS AN EXPERT MOUSE HUNTER

While on Trip to the North, Bags Mouse From Her Own Home—Name Reported Very Wonderful This Year in the North Country.

Miss Paula Pymate, 799 Lerne St., city, a fine, well built young lady of some, about twenty years, has been on a mouse hunting trip with her father, T. R. Pymate, Texas Pymate, her brother, and other friends. Miss Pymate was the only lady in the party, and she had the distinction of bagging the first mouse.

First Shot Effective.
At the time of her success Miss Pymate was tramping along through the brush about four miles from her home, when she heard the crackle of the underbrush as a big ball mouse thumped bounding through. The party of hunters had spread out in order to cover a wider area, and there was no one within a considerable distance of her. Miss Pymate raised her rifle and fired a shot and the mouse lay dead, missing him square in the neck. The mouse was a considerable distance of her. Miss Pymate raised her rifle and fired a shot and the mouse lay dead, missing him square in the neck. The mouse was a considerable distance of her.

Companion's Congratulations.
On coming up with his friend she found that she had shot a good mouse. The mouse was a considerable distance of her. Miss Pymate raised her rifle and fired a shot and the mouse lay dead, missing him square in the neck. The mouse was a considerable distance of her.

Mouse Hunting Party.
Miss Pymate and her companions camped about three miles from Twain, on the edge of the Athabasca Lake. The second day out, True Pymate, a friend of her father, Mr. Pymate, and her brother, T. R. CANDIDATES REPLIES ON THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC

Number of the Aspirants to the Alcoholic Board Reply to the Question: Decided Upon by Committee Chosen at Mass Temperance Meeting.

At a mass meeting in Methodist Church last Sunday night a series of questions were drawn up to be submitted to each of the nine male candidates. Here are the questions which were asked and the replies which have been made by candidates.

1. In view of the increasing number of drunken men staggering about our streets, lying about lanes and backyards, and making themselves offensive to our street ears, will you, if elected, (a) use your utmost power to meet this evil by enforcing the law strictly against liquor dealers who will assist in the drunkenness of the public, and by having such cases found upon our streets taken care of in such a way that they will no longer be a public nuisance?

2. (a) Will you support the establishment by the city of a house for drunks where men to whom the liquor habit has become a disease, can be scientifically treated, and such suitable employment found for them within the institution as may be possible during their treatment? (b) Will you favor securing legislation by which the expense of the maintenance of such a house for drunks, or any other expense incurred by the city for the care of such a house, shall be paid out of the municipal treasury from the drink tax, will be assessed against the liquor trade?

3. Will you give your support to secure legislation by which the council shall be required to petition a fixed percentage of electors, to present a petition to the people at a public meeting, or any other device for securing the number of licenses to be granted in the city?

4. If elected, will you oppose any action to continue the law by which liquor is sold by license, and will you do your utmost to rigidly enforce the law in such a way as to prevent any person from selling liquor without a license?

5. Will you use your personal and public influence to have the time of the day when liquor is sold by license, be limited to the hours of 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock?

6. Will you use your personal and public influence to have the time of the day when liquor is sold by license, be limited to the hours of 12 o'clock to 6 o'clock?

NEW LIGHT UPON THE C.P.R. STOCK ISSUE

Questions Asked by W. F. MacLean of York Are Thrown in the Ottawa House - Letters From Shagnessy Presented.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Ottawa, Dec. 6.—Considerable new light was thrown upon the issue by the Canadian Pacific railroad of $40,000,000 last September by questions asked in the commons this afternoon by W. F. MacLean, of York. Mr. MacLean asked in the past which the government played in the transaction by which the company issued the additional stock. If the company had made application, asking that the issue of capital stock be approved by the government in council, if the application was passed upon, and if after filing application with the government the company had increased its capital by issuing common stock without the knowledge or consent of the government, and if the communications passed between the company and the government, between the filing of the first application and October 2, 1912—the date of the meeting of the C.P.R. shareholders at Montreal—Mr. White, in reply, stated that application had been made to the government by the Canadian Pacific railroad for the sanction of the proposed increase of the par value of $75,000,000 of the authorized ordinary share capital of the company.

The first communication, with regard to the matter was addressed to the prime minister and came from the president of the company, Sir Thomas Shagnessy, upon application made by the company and not passed upon by the government. The government, said Mr. White, had then asked the company had increased its share capital by $40,000,000 par value, the authority of section, chapter 26-25 and 26, Victoria.

The government was informed of the intention of the company to make this increase.

Sir Thomas Shagnessy had verbally informed the prime minister of the intention of the company to issue the $40,000,000 referred to in addition to the $75,000,000 for the issuing of which application had been made to the government.

In the return brought down today the following letter from Sir Thomas Shagnessy, to Hon. Geo. Peirce, acting president, appeared:

Shagnessy's Letter.
"Montreal, August 3, 1912. Dear Sir: The last issue of the company's common stock on which the first resolutions will be paid, in the course of the next couple of months exhausts the amount authorized by order-in-council, Aug. 2, 1909, for the ordinary purposes of the company and the proceeds will be no more than sufficient to meet the expenses already made and those to be made in the course of the next few months under existing contracts. Notwithstanding the vagaries of the company's expenditures for increased facilities of every description and for the maintenance of the line, it has been found impossible to keep account of the transportation requirements of the country. Terminal yards, siding, track facilities and buildings that were completed three or four years ago and that were then thought to be sufficient for a number of years are now proved to be entirely inadequate and with the outlook for a continued increase in the immigration and the corresponding enlargement of the country's production and trade it is evident that in order to avoid serious congestion the outlay for increased facilities at almost every important point on the system for the extension of the double-track to the Pacific coast and for equipment must be continued without cessation and the work must be completed as rapidly as circumstances permit. A percentage of the money required for these purposes is derived from surplus earnings and from other sources, but by far the largest portion must be secured by the issue and sale of the company's ordinary share capital.

The directors desire to recommend to the shareholders that the authorized ordinary capital stock of the company be increased seventy-five million dollars, subject, as provided in statute 21-22 Victoria, chapter 25, to the approval of the government in council; the capital when so authorized to be issued or available for the purposes of the company.

Enclosed herewith please find certified copy of the resolution of the board at a meeting held August 12, 1912, and the resolutions for the proposed increase of capital and sanction of the application and I beg to request that the proposed increase of capital stock be approved by an order-in-council containing the conditions and restrictions as those that were incorporated in the order-in-council of August 12, 1909.

(Sgd.) Thomas Shagnessy, President.

The enclosed resolution of the board of directors, passed at Montreal on August 12, is as follows:

Resolution by Board.

"Whereas, the authorized ordinary capital stock of the company at this date is $75,000,000 dollars divided into 1,000,000 shares of the par or face value of $100 each.

"And whereas, pursuant to the provisions of section 25 of act 21-22 Victoria, chapter 25 Canada, the company being duly authorized in the behalf of its shareholders at a special general meeting, may from time to time increase its capital stock for any purpose for which the company requires new capital, to which and at such times as the shareholders at any such meeting may determine, such being first approved by the governor in council.

"And whereas, the company requires from time to time new capital for the purposes of the maintenance and improvement of the line and it is desirable to increase the amount of the authorized ordinary capital stock to $125,000,000, being an increase of $50,000,000.

"It is resolved as follows: That the ordinary capital stock be increased from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 in shares of five each or equivalent in sterling money of Great Britain."

Acting Premier's Reply.
To Sir Thomas Shagnessy's letter, Mr. Peirce, on behalf of the government, sent the following reply:

"Ottawa, Ont. Aug. 12-1912. Dear Sir:

Mr. Shagnessy handed me your letter of the 12th inst. and also the one addressed to the prime minister enclosing a certified copy of resolutions passed by your board of directors at their meeting held on the 12th inst. with the request that the proposed increase in capital stock should be approved by an order-in-council. The minister of finance is away at present but I expect him back the first of next week and as soon as he returns I will bring the matter before council as requested.

NO. 1 HARE WHEAT IS GROWN AT DUNVEGON

Two H.C. Travelers Motoring From Peace River Tell of Steady Development of the Country Since 1911 Middle of November.

The weather in the north has been very open this fall and during the month of November we have had beautiful weather, with the exception of a cold snap into which we ran towards the end of our journey. The settlers around Dunvegon have fenced their homesteads and broken up considerable land. Mr. Rutherford declares that some wheat has been grown on the farm of Mrs. Egan. Half way between Dunvegon and Peace River crossing was equal to any he has seen and that it was quite fit to grade as No. 1 hard.

Certified Purke 100 Miles.

Merse Rutherford and Kobe had a rather hard run from Fort St. John to Dunvegon. They left their horses at the Port at John's house for a few days and then they went on to Dunvegon. They left there on November 14th, in a boat. After they had traveled the river in a boat, they were forced to abandon their boat on account of the low stage.

They packed their provisions and blankets on their backs and set off on foot along the river, hoping that they would come to open places where they would be able to find a boat down on a raft, but as a result their walk extended as far as Dunvegon. The travelers had four days' provisions, but they were exhausted a half day on the way, so that their trip stake ran pretty low by the time they arrived at Dunvegon.

On their way in from Dunvegon they encountered some rather odd weather. It was reported that at Mirror Landing the thermometer had sunk to 40 below. At Athabasca Landing they found it 15 below and Mr. Kobe got his face frozen a little while driving.

George Harvey, the manager of the Hudson's Bay store at Grosbeak, and his son, came in with Merse Rutherford and Kobe. Mr. Harvey has been in charge of the Hudson's Bay store at Grosbeak for the past 25 years. He says great changes have taken place recently and he has no doubt that greater changes will be seen in the immediate future.

SCHEME TO IMPROVE RED RIVER NAVIGATION

Statement Made to U. S. Engineer Indicates Plan to Deepen the River Would Benefit 30,000 People Directly and Increase Riverine Population.

Grand Forks, N.D., Dec. 5.—That the improvement of the Red River as proposed by the construction of a system of locks and dams would benefit 30,000 people directly; that its improvement would result in an increase of population in a strip five miles wide on either side of the river in Minnesota and North Dakota to 15,000; that the river tonnage would be far in excess of that during the ordinary navigation year as heretofore maintained and that the expenditure necessary to make such improvements would not be too great to make the investment profitable, was the contention of J. E. Hoyle, who has placed with Lieut. Col. Charles Potter, United States engineer, a report of the economic conditions along the Red River from Wapington, N. D., and Breckenridge, Minn., to the Canadian boundary.

E. F. Chandler, representing the Grand Forks Commercial club, filed with Lieut. Col. Potter a statement indicating just what business has been done on the river in the past seven years and just what may be expected in the event that the plan of improvement is adopted.

Maintenance of navigation during the entire summer period would only require a depth of about five feet. Lieut. Col. Potter had today a hearing in connection with the proposal for the general improvement of the river navigation situation. It was brought on by request of the government appropriation of $150,000 for the making of a survey, such survey to be carried out under the direction of Col. Potter, of the war department. In addition to the Grand Forks interests appearing before Mr. Potter there were representatives from many of the leading cities of the valley.
